President John F. Kennedy has written to the Harvard Club of Taipei to express his thanks for his portrait, done in petit point, and given him through the courtesy of Dr. Ray S. Cline, deputy director of Central Intelligence Agency.

Dr. Cline, while in Taipei as director of the Naval Auxiliary Communications Center, was president of the Harvard Club. He has since returned to Washington to work with CIA.

The Harvard Club, meanwhile, elected Dr. Kan Li, deputy governor of the Central Back of China to succeed Dr. Cline. Other officers elected are George W. Mallary, vice president; Paul C. Lee, secretary; and Dr. Tsai-Chiyen Dju, treasurer.
